

Terms of Use

Pigly — End User Licence Agreement

Effective: 14 September 2026

1. This agreement

Pigly ("the App") is provided by its developer ("we", "us"). By downloading or using the App you agree to these terms.

If you do not agree, do not use the App. You may request a refund from Apple under Apple's own refund policy.

2. What you are buying

The App is sold once, for a single price, through the App Store. There are no subscriptions, no in-app purchases, no advertising and no recurring charges of any kind.

Your purchase is handled entirely by Apple under Apple's terms, including Family Sharing where we have enabled it and you have it configured.

We may change the price of the App at any time. A change never affects a purchase already made: what you bought stays bought.

3. Licence

We grant you a personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable licence to use the App on Apple-branded devices that you own or control, as permitted by the Usage Rules in the Apple Media Services Terms and Conditions.

4. What you may not do — and what this section does not touch

You may not: copy the App (except as the App Store's own backup and redistribution mechanisms provide), sell, rent, lease, sublicense or redistribute it, or remove any proprietary notice from it.

This section does not apply to the language pack databases. The dictionaries, example sentences and level lists the App ships are adapted material derived from Wiktionary, Tatoeba, the CEFR-J Wordlist and the Octanove Vocabulary Profile. They are licensed to you under their own terms — chiefly the Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International Licence — and nothing in this agreement restricts, or is intended to restrict, any right those licences give you, including the right to redistribute that material under the same licence.

We apply no technological measure to those files and impose no condition on them beyond what their own licences require. Full inventory and licence texts: `LICENSES.md`, which also carries the verbatim notices.

5. Your data is yours

Your vocabulary is stored on your device and, if you switch on iCloud sync, in your own iCloud account. We have no access to either, and we claim no rights of any kind over anything you create in the App.

The App sends us crash reports and usage measurements, each behind its own switch and each on unless you turn it off. Neither carries anything you wrote — no word, sentence, collection name, file name or typed answer. What each sends, who receives it, and how to turn it off is set out in `privacy-policy.md`.

The App exports everything you have put into it, in an open format, at any time. That capability is not conditional on anything and will not be removed.

How your data is handled is described in `privacy-policy.md`.

6. Third-party content and third-party services

The App's dictionaries and example sentences come from openly licensed community corpora. We do not author them, verify each entry, or control what they contain. They may be incomplete, out of date, or wrong. Translations and any generated example sentences are produced by Apple's on-device frameworks, not by us.

The App is a study tool. It is not a certified reference work, and nothing in it should be relied on where accuracy matters legally, medically or professionally.

If you turn on crash reporting or usage measurement, those are provided by Google LLC (Firebase Crashlytics and Firebase Analytics) and your use of them is additionally subject to Google's terms. We are responsible for what we ask those services to collect, which is set out in `privacy-policy.md` and is deliberately narrow.

7. Availability

We do not promise that the App will be updated, that it will remain compatible with future versions of iOS, that additional languages will be released, or that it will remain available on the App Store.

8. Disclaimer of warranty

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, the App is provided "as is" and "as available", without warranty of any kind, express or implied, including warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, accuracy and non-infringement.

Nothing in this section limits any right you have as a consumer under the mandatory law of your country of residence, which applies regardless of these terms.

9. Limitation of liability

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, our total liability arising out of or relating to the App is limited to the amount you paid for it.

We are not liable for indirect, incidental, special or consequential damages, or for loss of data. Keep your own backups: the App's export exists for this reason.

Nothing in this section excludes liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence, for fraud, or for anything else that cannot be excluded by law.

Terms Apple requires

The following ten sections are the minimum terms Apple requires of any custom end user licence agreement. Where they conflict with anything above, they prevail.

10. Acknowledgement

This agreement is between you and us only, and not with Apple. We, not Apple, are solely responsible for the App and its content. This agreement does not provide for usage rules for the App that conflict with the Apple Media Services Terms and Conditions.

11. Scope of licence

The licence granted in section 3 is non-transferable and limited to use of the App on Apple-branded products that you own or control, as permitted by the Usage Rules set out in the Apple Media Services Terms and Conditions, except that the App may be accessed and used by other accounts associated with you via Family Sharing or volume purchasing.

12. Maintenance and support

We are solely responsible for providing any maintenance and support services for the App, as specified in this agreement or as required by applicable law. Apple has no obligation whatsoever to furnish any maintenance and support services for the App.

13. Warranty

We are solely responsible for any product warranties, whether express or implied by law, to the extent not effectively disclaimed. In the event of any failure of the App to conform to any applicable warranty, you may notify Apple, and Apple will refund the purchase price for the App to you. To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, Apple will have no other warranty obligation whatsoever with respect to the App, and any other claims, losses, liabilities, damages, costs or expenses attributable to any failure to conform to any warranty will be our sole responsibility.

14. Product claims

We, not Apple, are responsible for addressing any claims relating to the App or your possession and use of it, including but not limited to: (i) product liability claims; (ii) any claim that the App fails to conform to any applicable legal or regulatory requirement; and (iii) claims arising under consumer protection, privacy, or similar legislation, including in connection with the App's use of the HealthKit and HomeKit frameworks — which the App does not use.

15. Intellectual property rights

In the event of any third-party claim that the App or your possession and use of it infringes that third party's intellectual property rights, we, not Apple, will be solely responsible for the investigation, defence, settlement and discharge of that claim.

16. Legal compliance

You represent and warrant that you are not located in a country that is subject to a U.S. Government embargo, or that has been designated by the U.S. Government as a "terrorist supporting" country; and that you are not listed on any U.S. Government list of prohibited or restricted parties.

17. Third-party terms and third-party beneficiary

You must comply with applicable third-party terms of agreement when using the App.

Apple and Apple's subsidiaries are third-party beneficiaries of this agreement, and upon your acceptance of its terms Apple will have the right

(and will be deemed to have accepted the right) to enforce this agreement against you as a third-party beneficiary of it.

18. Governing law

These terms are governed by the law of Poland, without regard to its conflict of law rules, save that if you are a consumer resident in the European Union or the United Kingdom, you retain the protection of the mandatory provisions of the law of your country of residence.
